

SOUTH KOREAN FORCES PENETRATE 82 MILES INSIDE N. KOREA; DEATH BLOW PLANNED IN AN ALL-OUT DRIVE

American 'Planes Rocket and Fire-Bomb Red Defenders As Push Is Renewed by South Koreans on Wonsan, Rail-Sea Gateway to Siberia and Manchuria.

By Howard Handelman

(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 6 — (INS) — South

Korean forces, penetrating 82 miles

inside North Korea, advanced another 18 miles up the east coast

today within 30 miles of vital Wonsan

as 140,000 other Allied troops

massed for a sweep across the 38th

Parallel.

Secret preparations were rushed

for an all-out drive over the whole

200-mile border to deal the final death blow to a Communist army

gravely depleted by nearly 200,000

casualties in 15 weeks.

American 'planes rocketed and fire-bombed Red defenders as the South Koreans renewed their push on Wonsan, rail-sea gateway to Siberia and Manchuria, while their pioneering drive into enemy territory was widened to a 35-mile wide front.

The new 18-mile forward smash

was disclosed in a field dispatch received at 6 p. m. Friday evening

(4 a. m. EST) from International

News War Correspondent Lee Fer-

rero, accompanying the South Koreans in their spectacular advance.

Ferrero said the Rok (Republic of Korea) Third Division plunged

18 miles north from captured

Changwon after crushing the first resistance of Red home soil "with a ferocity that sent the enemy reeling

northward."

He reported only "light" opposition after the South Koreans

hammered through enemy entrenchments astride the North Korean east shoreline rail-highway artery.

The South Koreans passed on to the immediate approaches of Tongchon, 29 miles southeast of Wonsan. Another Red delaying action was anticipated at Tong-

chon.

A South Korean army spokesman predicted the enemy would attempt

a major stand along a small river

that empties into the Japan Sea

four miles southeast of Wonsan.

Some 20,000 Red troops had been reported massing in that coastal sector.

RELIGIOUS QUIZ

Bristol Council of Church Women, in cooperation with Philadelphia Council of Churches, announces that a new religious quiz program "Guess or Know," in which young people from 12 to 14 years of age will participate, will begin in October on station WCAU-TV. Nearly 40 children have been recommended by pastors and have made at least 70% on the required special examination provided by the radio and television committee. The committee is interested in others who can qualify. Inquiry can be made at the office of the Philadelphia Council of Churches, 1421 Arch street, Philadelphia.

ALARM AT PENNDEL

PENNDEL, Oct. 6 — When the Firemen from the Consolidated Enterprise Wallpaper Co. plant, here, early this morning, Pennel, Hulmeville and Langhorne firemen responded to a call. According to officials at the plant there was no release of water, and therefore no damage from that source when the false alarm occurred.

Sorosis Has 2 Speakers As Club Season Opens

LANGHORNE, Oct. 6 — Opening

its 1950-51 season yesterday, Langhorne Sorosis members partook of a covered dish luncheon and enjoyed addresses by two guests. A board meeting preceded the business session, with president Mrs. H. P.

Townsend presiding.

Mrs. Franklin J. Howes, Pipers-

ville, co-chairman of literature, had

as her subject "Creative Writing."

Mrs. Howes, in an endeavor to encourage not only the talented but other club women to express their thoughts in writing, suggested that they occasionally jot down some very simple thoughts, try to develop them, and polish the article later. She read to the group her story, "Maggie Nash," which won third place in the state women's club federation contest for creative writing. Several poems which had simple thoughts, well expressed, were read to the club women. An opportunity to develop talent was given when Mrs. Howes asked members to write a certain sentence,

then asked them to develop the idea

contained therein.

Miss Maude Corbett, of Newtown,

who lived for 12 years in Brazil, displayed a number of souvenirs from that South American country, including silver jewelry and pictures.

She gave a general idea of what

Brazil is like, through description of its people, the kind of houses in which they live, the food they eat,

the social customs, mode of dress,

the educational system, and touched on natural resources and politics.

"It is a coming country," she added,

"and will one day, no doubt, be a great power."

BROWNIES TO HIKE

Brownie Troop, No. 51, of Bristol

Methodist church, will take a hike tomorrow. All Brownies are asked to be at the church at 9:30 a. m.

J. J. Atkinson Dies; Former Local Resident

A former resident of Bristol,

Jeremiah J. Atkinson, husband of the late Minnie M. Atkinson, died last evening in a nursing home at Clayton, N. J. Mr. Atkinson, a retired railroad employee, had been in ill health for some time.

The service will be held at a funeral home on Broad street, Palmyra, N. J., at one p. m. Monday, with interment in I. O. O. F. Cemetery, Burlington, N. J. Friends may call Sunday evening.

Surviving Mr. Atkinson are the following daughters and sons: Mrs.

S. Wilson Black, Bristol; Mrs.

George Small, Woodbury, N. J.;

Mrs. Lawrence Haines, Riverside,

N. J.; David and Roland Atkinson,

Palmyra; sisters and brothers—

Mrs. John Parker, Collingdale; Mrs.

Marvin Worham, Hampton, Va.;

Mrs. Walter Anderson, Richmond,

Va.; Mrs. John Farrar, Cyrus Atkinson, of Norfolk, Va.; and Olon Atkinson, Phillipsburg, N. J.; also by 10 grandchildren.

MORRISVILLE LEGION TO DEDICATE HOME

Sanford-Diletto Post Announces Program for

Tomorrow Afternoon

SLEPIN WILL SPEAK

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 6—Dedication ceremonies for the new home of the Sanford-Diletto Post 433,

American Legion, at 215 W. Bridge street, will begin tomorrow with a two-band concert at 3:30 p. m.

The Post Drum and Bugle Corps

will open the ceremonies with musical selections until 3:45. Then the Morrisville High School band will be heard until 4.

Commander Kempton Franke, in charge of the arrangements, will then signal the start of the dedication of the new Post home. A new American flag, presented to the Post by Jacob Scheese, will be raised by a squad headed by John E.

Gear, sergeant-at-arms.

Principal speaker will be Max

Slepin, of Drexel Hill, chosen by the State Department of the American Legion as the outstanding

Pennsylvania veteran of World

War II. Slepin won six decorations

during the war.

Invocation and benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Joseph

D. Gallagher, pastor of the Holy Trinity R. C. Church.

Commander Franke announced that the public is invited to attend

the dedication ceremonies.

Beginning at 6, members of the Ladies Auxiliary, with Mrs. Fred

Duke in charge, will serve the dedication banquet in the new home.

Toastmaster at the banquet will be John B. Sumner, Sr., president of the Legion Home Association.

Invited guests include Deputy District 9 Commander Harry Chapin,

of Bristol, and Gene Bellem, of Springfield, past district adjutant.

Victor Lord, a member of the Post, will show motion pictures of the building of the new home.

Vocal selections will be presented by the Malmesbury sisters. Following the dinner, there will be dancing. The dinner and dance will be for members of the Post, the au-xiiliary and invited guests.

She's Still Pinching Herself

(By "The Stroller")

When Miss Ruth Shapcott

answered the telephone at her home in Hulmeville, Tuesday evening, a man's voice informed

"This is Joe DiMaggio." It is claimed that Ruth replied "Oh,

yeah!" or words to that effect.

The one on the other end of the wire continued "I hear you want a ticket for a World Series game. I have one for you to use tomorrow. You may pick it up here at the hotel, or I'll send it up with your boss in the morning." Still skeptical, Ruth replied "Of course, I'd like to go, but I would like to know who I am talking to." The man tried hard to convince her it was really the Yankee player,

and that he had heard Ruth was a good Yankee rooter.

Shortly after Ruth arrived at the office of the O. K.

FARMS IN DEMAND

Farm land prices, after dropping slightly from their postwar peaks, are now headed toward all-time high levels. People with money to invest, and who dislike to see inflation eroding it in the banks, are heavy buyers. Some think a farm will be a good anchor
to windward in times to come.
Farmers, prosperous because of guaranteed high prices and good production years, are buying.

Farm land values rose nearly 90 per cent between 1940 and 1947, but today's prices are 105 per cent of the 1940 figure. This is an increase of two per cent over the previous record high following World War I. And values will undoubtedly go higher. The 50-cent dollar will retreat to 40 cents. There are predictions that it will go as low as 20 cents.

What its value will be in the future will, of course, depend on the severity of international developments and fiscal policies in Washington. As the dollar shrinks in value more and more people of means will esteem the farm as an investment.

Farms are becoming larger and fewer. The recent census shows a continued drift from farm to city. Those who leave are selling their holdings to neighbors or city investors. Purchases are being increasingly financed. The farm mortgage debt is up 15 per cent from 1946, when it hit a 34-
year low.

DEMAND FOR FOOD

Food surpluses in the United States may soon cease to be a problem. Increased demand for food is already arising out of the Korean situation.

Before the U. S. forces broke out of the small beachhead in Korea, 6,000,000 natives of the area and refugees were huddled there. Food stocks dwindled rapidly, as South Korea produces only 25 per cent of the food requirements of its normal population.

Now that war has reduced rice harvest expectations, there are many additional millions who will be looking to the United States for food next winter. The United States, which received little aid from other UN nations in the war, will receive little or none in feeding the starving Koreans.

In addition to feeding American forces in Korea, this country will take on these millions of Koreans.

This is the beginning of another draft upon American soil for food for the destitute of the world, to be provided by American taxpayers. Huge surpluses of wheat and other food stocks
may no longer be a national problem. At the end of the road will be the problem of producing sufficient food for this country, with enough left over to keep alive the peoples America is taking under its wing.

Scientist says people should eat a certain amount of sand.
Sounds like subtle propaganda in favor of spinach.

Budget Funerals

● MOST families find it wise to operate within a definite budget suitable to their circumstances. We feel the same principle should guide them
in the selection of a funeral service. Dignity and beauty do not depend on a lavish display, and true grief is often best portrayed by simplicity.

An Unusual Movie!

Movie stars are famous for their individuality, but one of the most unusual you've seen yet is being starred in a "SERMONS FROM SCIENCE" film coming to BRISTOL TOMORROW. You see, she's a caterpillar, and her life history is featured in the colored motion picture, "God of Creation."

Katy has always been a modest soul, and this is probably the first color movie she's ever played in. Ordinarily, she doesn't let the cameraman witness the biggest event in her life, but Irwin A. Moon, scientist from Moody Bible Institute, was lucky.

Katy isn't beautiful, but she does have brains. You'll admit that when you watch her spinning a silken loop and anchoring it in a strategic place on the branch of a tree.
She weaves strand after strand until she has a strong cord. Then she does an amazing bit of gymnastics and pokes her head through the finished loop.

Katy rests for the next few days. Suddenly she jerks violently . . . performs an acrobatic feat that makes Barnum and Bailey look pale . . . and sheds her skin, her feet, and all that's left of the Katy we knew. Two weeks later, she emerges—a beautiful butterfly.

Katy isn't the only unusual star in "God of Creation." Miracles of nature ranging from tiny paramereum to galaxies in the sky are featured in the film, too. Flowers open and close in a few seconds before your eyes. Producer Moon explains photosynthesis, the food-manufacturing process resulting from sunlight on green leaves.
You can see this extraordinary film, combining science and religion . . .

SCHOOL TEAMS ARE READY FOR GAMES TODAY & TONIGHT

The injury-riddled Bristol High team will travel to Conshohocken tonight to battle the school of that name. Bristol will be seeking to avenge a 7-6 beating of last season and at the same time even their 1950 record.

Bristol opened its season with a win over Hathoro but since then has lost to both Trenton Catholic and Pennsbury.

Coach Harry McClister has lost both Andy Accardi and Bill Gillies for the remainder of the season. Several other players are on the injured list and it is doubtful whether they will be able to play. The line which was battered to shreds by Pennsbury has been strengthened by the return of Frank Rubino. Rubino was starting last season until he suffered a wrist injury.

Jack Quinn, newly-acquired full-back, looked good in running the ball against Pennsbury and is certain to hold this post tonight. The other backs will be Lou Loeffler, Alan Holston, and Dick Pugino. Line-men will be Dan Davis, Bill White, Tex Giagnacova, Bill Gratz, Charlie Foltz, Charlie Rauch, and Jim Gallagher.

Neshaminy will also be playing in a night game today, meeting the Jenkintown Drakes on the latter's field.

Neshaminy played fine ball against Riverside last week and Coach "Jim" Egli expects his boys to give the Jenkintown boys a real battle. Neshaminy is seeking its first win of the campaign.

This afternoon, Pennsbury will go after its third straight Lower Bucks County League triumph when it meets Southampton High on the Fallington field. Game will begin at three o'clock.

Pennsbury has scored triumphs over Neshaminy and Bristol to score four points for the season. Southampton played Morrisville to a 6-4 tie in its lone circuit clash.

All Phillies Need Is Few Timely Hits

ed in scoring position, and you can't do that and win ball games. We delivered only one out of eight scoring chances, which isn't a good percentage.

Of course, this has been a pitcher's Series so far. We have played on even terms except for that last inning yesterday when Joe DiMaggio broke loose with some of that Yankee power for his game-winning home run to beat us, 2-1.

But the rest of the game was very close. Even those earlier runs weren't clean. The single I hit took a lucky hop over Coleman's head to send Gollat in scoring position. And that first Yankee was made possible when the ball plopped into the hole between short and second.

The pitching has been the real key. There are two kinds of fast ball pitchers—the ones who just throw fast, and those who throw fast with something on the ball. The latter is what we have been seeing. That's been the reason for so many pops and easy flies.

We've got to explode soon. This slump has lasted too long. We've been able to bounce back time after time all season, and there's no reason why we can't do it in this Series—certainly not the Yankees.

I think we've shown in the past two games that there isn't that much difference in the teams. A few hits might have reversed the standings.

As I see it, we are our own worst enemy. It's not the fact that the Yanks are better. It's just that we're not producing.

Yankees Look For Sweep of Series

in today's third game against Ed Lopat, 18 - game - winning lefty whose Yankee pitching comrades Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds shone so glamorously in the first pair at Shibe Park.

Philly manager Eddie Sawyer said today's pitchers would be either Bob Miller, a righthander who won eleven games during the past season, or Ken Heintzelman, a lefty who won three and has never even seen Yankee Stadium. Not to mention the 67,000 crowd that will be there today.

Some watchers, though, murmured that Sawyer might yield to temptation and use one of the two guys who tolled so nobly for him in the losing cause Wednesday—Jim Konstanty, who went eight innings of Russ Meyer, who went a quick one.

He can't very well use his acknowledged prince, Robin Roberts, who had his poor young heart broken by the merciless Yanks yesterday.

They were very nice about it. They hit sympathetically at his fast one and popped up to the infield 13 times (DiMag four of the 13). They left him ride nine innings with a 1-1 ball game and his own mates threatening to scuttle Reynolds at every turn.

Then the count was 2 and 1 with DiMaggio leading off the Yankee tenth.

The ball rode in waist high and inside. There was a pistol crack, and the crowd of 32,669 just sat quietly and watched it go.

So did Dick Sisler, the Philly left fielder.

"I didn't even move," he said later.

There was no reason for him to move. The ball was three rows up in the second left field deck, whaled for DiMag's seventh homer in the nine World Series he's played.

There, too, went the ball game. The pitiless will say that the Phillies didn't lose it—they blew it. And it is true that they got six men to second and two to third, and yet from all that culled only one tainted run. Tainted, because it was a freak hop over Jerry Coleman's head by Eddie Waitkus' fifth-inning grounder that sent Mike Gollat around to third, whence he scored on a fly.

The Yanks got their first run in the second inning on a walk and two singles after two were out.

They got ten hits off Roberts all told, and the Phils tapped Reynolds for seven, including three doubles and a triple. One of the doubles, Granny Hamner's shot in the ninth, would have been a triple save for a racing backhand snatch of the rolling ball in deep center field by DiMaggio, but we've been through him before.

Too, Reynolds struck out six men, including Dick Sisler in the last of the tenth with the tying run on second base and two out. Sisler also fanned against Raschi to end the first game Wednesday.

The Phillies are talking to themselves by this time. Stir crazy, you might say. And dangerous. Somebody is bound to explode. And it might be the Whiz Kids.

Or—a watch out—the other guys.

Hospital and medical-surgical expenses PAID for all your family!

BLUE CROSS and BLUE SHIELD AGAIN OPEN TO INDIVIDUAL FAMILIES!

If you are under 66, in good health, and not eligible for group membership, you may join either or both plans as a non-group member.

Offer extends until October 30 only.

Nearly 1,600,000 people in the Philadelphia area are members of the nonprofit, community-sponsored Blue Cross plan. More than 250,000 belong to nonprofit Blue Shield.

Most of them joined through groups, formed where they work. Others joined as individuals (non-group membership).

These people don't worry about hospital and medical-surgical expenses. When they leave the hospital, they get a receipt—not a bill!

Blue Cross gives you most for your money!

Nonprofit Blue Cross provides hospital services—not cash benefits which may add up to only a small portion of your bill. There's no red tape—when you leave the hospital, you simply present your Blue Cross card. Blue Cross takes care of room, meals, nursing, use of operating room, penicillin, sulfa—practically everything. Maternity benefits may be included. Once a Blue Cross member, you can stay a member for as long as you wish. And Blue Cross benefits are nation-wide. Blue Cross has paid bills of as high as $4,300 for an individual subscriber.

Blue Shield gives you most for your money!

Nonprofit Blue Shield takes care of all or a major part of your surgical or medical-surgical expenses. Co-operating doctors have agreed to make no direct charge to you whatsoever for services covered by Blue Shield if you have a moderate income (up to $4,000 for those with two or more dependents).

You get everything for a few cents a day

Blue Cross and Blue Shield together provide today's finest, most complete medical care "package." Yet, no matter how many there are in your family, they can

You're eligible for group membership if . . .

You work where five or more people are now employed. In this case, you join through a group at your company. If there is now no group where you work, Blue Cross will attempt to form one if you request that it be done. Group rates are somewhat lower than non-group and group membership provides additional benefits. One membership covers your whole family. New groups may be formed at any time. Send the coupon now!

You're eligible for non-group membership if . . .

You are under 66, in good health . . . and if you work where less than five people are employed or if you are self employed, retired, or not working. In this event, you join directly, through the mails. Your membership covers your whole family. Non-group applications will be accepted for a limited time only. The plans have no door-to-door salesmen. Send the coupon!

much less. You "pay as you go." It's mighty little for the kind of protection and peace of mind these famous nonprofit plans give you!

Telephone or write for full details today!

Hospital costs have almost doubled since 1943. An accident or serious illness is a jolt few budgets can stand. So don't wait another day to get all the details about Blue Cross and Blue Shield for yourself and your family. Whether you are eligible for group or non-group membership, your first step is to telephone or send the coupon for full details. You send no money, and you are not obligated in any way. Joining Blue Cross and Blue Shield is entirely up to you.

ing motion: "That one identified container may be placed in each school for voluntary contributions for drives for funds which are recognized as worthy. There will be no personal solicitation of monies or pledges by any person or persons of school children in the elementary schools of Bristol Township during school hours."

The motion carried with every member present voting for it.

Walter Miller, regional superintendent, in his report stated that October 23 was a work shop day and the teachers were planning to visit the plant of Rohm & Haas and would like to know if the board would supply a bus for their transportation. The board granted the use of a school bus for the trip.

Joseph Wigmore, school architect, requested that a topographical survey be made of the ground acquired in the Croydon area. The board stated that they would have the survey made.

The milk sales have doubled this year in the schools of the Township, according to Mr. Miller.

The Laurel Bend P. T. A. asked permission to work on October 22 in the Laurel Bend School to finish fixing up the room they are painting. The board granted the permission.

William Knight reported that buses have been hired for the football games, and that it is working out all right so far. A more complete report will be given at the meeting of the Delbaas board meeting.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Paul H. Gleichman
Pastor
Zion Lutheran Church

O God, give grace and strength to all who are responsible for the Christian nurture of children in home, church and school, that they may discharge their sacred trust with fidelity, patience and kindness, and that they may themselves walk in the paths they teach; through the Master Teacher, Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

—(1950 Year Book, United Lutheran Church in America)

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Seasons open Tuesday . . . October 10 ushers in the 1950 woodcock and dove season. Reports have it that hunters will find more of both species, both "home-grown" and migrants, to hang away at than they did last season.

Dove hunting has few devotees in the Commonwealth but the woodcock clan is an avid one. Those smitten with a love for "hill partridge" hunting eagerly await the season's opening, when they may match their skill with the night-traveling, erratic-flying, goggle-eyed, long-billed, whistling "timber-doodle."

Regulations governing the hunting and taking of woodcocks and doves follow: Shooting hours, October 10-31, inclusive, 1/2 hour before sunrise to sunset. On November 2-8, inclusive, 7 a. m. to sunset—on no day, however, later than 5 p. m. The daily limit on woodcock is 4; doves 10. After the first day of season, the woodcock possession limit is 8, which is 2 day's bag. The possession limit on doves is 10, the same as the daily bag.

A Pennsylvania hunting license is required to hunt woodcocks and doves; a federal (duck) stamp is not. Only shotguns may be used in hunting these birds. In hunting them, shotguns larger than 10 gauge, automatic shotguns and rifles are prohibited. A hand-operated, repeating shotgun may be used if it is plugged so that the plug cannot be removed without disassembling the gun and so long as such a firearm is limited to 3 shell capacity in magazine and chamber combined.

Increase . . . membership in the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs now stands at 4459. This represents the combined membership of the more than 20 clubs which make up the Federation. Less than a decade ago the figure was slightly over the 2000 mark.

Pennsylvania fish management . . . the Fisheries Management unit of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission has returned to Bellefonte from the Northwestern part of Pennsylvania after a season of special study over various parts of the Commonwealth.

The Commission feels that more good sound work was accomplished this year than in any other similar period since the management program was begun in 1946. Equipped with a mobile biological laboratory considered among the finest in this field of activity, the unit has spent the season in the Pocono Mountain area. In addition to this specialized work in Northeastern Pennsylvania twenty-four other streams in other sections of the state were studied by the biologists of the Fisheries Management Unit.

The Fisheries Management Program is primarily designed and serves to assist nature in providing a better habitat, more natural food, healthier fish and, of course, better fishing. The information gathered in these scientific expeditions is brought back to the central laboratory at Pleasant Gap, where it is carefully compiled and studied during the winter months. A program is then set up upon which the future management of the particular lake or stream is based.

Check your guns . . .

The 1950 game seasons are almost here, therefore hunters are reminded to check their firearms carefully at once for mechanical defects, structural weaknesses and inaccuracies.

When firearms fail to function they spoil hunting trips. It is disheartening to have a well-aimed shot miss because of a mechanical fault. More important than either of these, a gun's dangerous firing condition sometimes results in human casualties.

Those who fail to inspect their weapons early and who learn tardily that repairs are necessary often discover that gunsmiths are so overloaded with other rush jobs they cannot do the work required before the season opens.

Money for wildlife projects . . .

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service recently announced that the Pennsylvania Game Commission has been allotted $354,000 of Federal aid for use on wildlife restoration projects over the Commonwealth in the 1950-51 period under provisions of the Pittman-Robertson Act. It is interesting to note that Pennsylvania's 1950-51 share of Pittman-Robertson funds decreased about 18% below that for 1949-1950, when the amount received was $431,000.

These monies, derived from a tax on firearms and ammunition purchased, are apportioned on the basis of a state's area and the number of licenses sold by it the preceding year. Since only one license is required to hunt all wildlife that may be legally taken in Pennsylvania, the Keystone State receives less federal aid than do other states that sell separate small game, large game and special hunting licenses, even though their hunting population may be less than Pennsylvania's.

Deer plentiful . . .

"One fawn killed on the highway and three doe deer killed for crop damage in my district in Huntingdon County last month."

said Game Protector William Lane, Hustontown. Lane reported that crops being destroyed by deer are oats, beans and tomatoes. He continued: "I have authentic reports of, or have seen, a total of 20 doe deer mothering twin fawns this summer. Using damage claims and twin fawns as a measure, it would appear that the deer herd continues to increase hereabouts, while the natural deer range continues to decrease."

BENSALEM OWLS WILL PLAY PENNA. SCHOOL FOR DEAF

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Oct. 5.—After playing its first two games away, the Bensalem Township grid-ers will return to its home field tomorrow afternoon to meet the Pennsylvania School for Deaf on the field at Street Road, above Hulmeville Road. Opening kickoff takes place at two o'clock.

Pennsylvania School for Deaf defeated St. John's, of Manayunk, last week.

Coach VanHorn's starting array will most likely be composed of: Ends, Dick Glyod and John Mellor; tackles, Dick Scott and Myron Matlocks; center, Gene Connolly; backs, Bob Whitfield, Al Bader, Johnny Bowman, and Bozoz.

In another afternoon game, Lower Moreland will meet Coach Dominick Sagolla's Council Rock team on the latter's gridiron in Newtown.

In a game under the lights at Morrisville tomorrow night, Muhlenberg Township, coached by Don Fetterman, formerly of Bristol, will play Morrisville High. The latter team was held to a 6-6 deadlock last week by Southampton.

BRISTOL GIRLS LOSE TO NEW HOPE IN HOCKEY GAME

NEW HOPE, Oct. 6.—The Bristol High girls were shut out by New Hope High, 3-0, in the opening game of the Lower Bucks County Hockey League, here, yesterday afternoon. Claire Refugee scored two of the New Hope goals, one in each half. The other score was made by Ann Jancy in the first half.

The high grass on the field made hitting the ball a problem but seemed to bother the Bristol girls mostly. Outstanding offensively for the Bristol lasses were Shirley Morrell and Julia Zanni with Marjorie Gill and Nancy Almond doing a fine job in backing up the line.

In addition to Almond, Coach Barbara Yerkes used two other freshmen, Mary Lattanzi and Betty Ann Boyd. Also playing varsity ball for the first time were Peggy Mount and Elsie Karp, both sophomores.

Line-ups:

Bristol	New Hope
Mount	L. W.
Zanni	L. I.
Morrell	C. I.
Parr	R. I.
Karp	C. H.
Almond	C. H.
Kelly	L. H.
R. Huett	R. H.
Gill	L. P.

ST. ANN'S TO PRACTICE

St. Ann's A. A. will hold another drill this evening in preparation for its game with Rockne A. A. tomorrow night on the high school field. The session will be held in the rear of St. Ann's club house, Wood street. Coach "Pete" Bornice last night announced the signing of Claude Disler, former Northeast Catholic High player. Disler played with Third Ward for several seasons under Joe Roe. He can be used as a center and backfield player and can get distance on his boots. The "Saints" appear to be in fine condition for their home opening and are out to get on the right side of the ledger.
